TOSSUPS

1. In Close Encounters of the Third Kind, while communicating with the mothership, the conversation concludes with the mothership playing this musical theme. At the beginning of Spaceballs, music akin to this theme plays as a long spaceship passes by the field of view. At the opening of Airplane, this music plays as the plane's (*) tail breaks through the clouds. Near the climax of the movie in which this theme originates, this music notably does not play when Brody suddenly sees the title thing in his ship's cabin, much to the audience's surprise. This musical theme begins with the alternating notes E and F on low strings. For 10 points, identify this foreboding musical theme which occurs in a namesake 1975 film alongside the appearance of a shark.
ANSWER: Jaws shark theme [prompt on daaaaa-dum… daaaaaa-dum…. da-dum da-dum da-dum da-dum...]

2. In one short in which these things appear, one of them adopts a stray UFO as a puppy before replacing it with a giant ladybug. This group of things once accidentally fired a cannon at Napoleon, and in another instance, this group suggested that a caveman (*) smack a bear with a spatula. These things were responsible for crushing a Pharaoh after building a pyramid upside-down, and these things sing the Universal theme at the beginning of the main movie in which they appear. In a previous movie, some of these things mutate into evil purple versions of themselves, though they are usually yellow, like the fruits they love most. For 10 points, name these creatures that go by many names, like Dave, Carl, Paul, and Mike, but that all share the same goal, to serve the most despicable master they can find.
ANSWER: minions

3. After this person's sister insults him for making her hot chocolate that tastes like warm water with a brown crayon dipped in it, this person says, "you're right… I'll go put in another crayon." In 1962, this person began to wear glasses, but he stopped wearing them completely by the end of the year. This person's friend's little sister fell in love with him, regularly calling him her (*) "Sweet Babboo." An object of fixation for this person can serve as an airplane, a slingshot, or a whip, and this person's little brother Rerun calls it his "sucking rag." For 10 points, identify this intellectual character from Peanuts who believes in the Great Pumpkin and who has a notable blue security blanket.
ANSWER: Linus van Pelt

4. This person once took on the identity of the Canadian John Anderson after buying a stolen passport in Morocco in order to get back into the States. This person first met his girlfriend when she put a dollar in his cup while he was meditating in Central Park. When this man reunites with his childhood friend nicknamed "J-Money," that friend offers help from her firm in proving his identity; that friend is (*) Jeri Hogarth. After this man is kidnapped by Elektra and sent beneath Midland Circle, he refuses to open a door that leads to a dragon's skeleton. This person's unique ability comes from his time spent in K'un Lun and can only occur if he can recharge his chi. For 10 points, identify this boy billionaire, a member of the Defenders with a glowing fist.
ANSWER: Danny Rand [or The Immortal Iron Fist, Protector of K'un Lun, Sworn Enemy of the Hand]

5. Recent studies associated with these things show that an increasing number of people would "definitely not trust" these things, and safety concerns with these things have arisen due to hacking of shared information through V2V and V2I protocols. Residents of Phoenix, Arizona are participating in Waymo's first public trial of these things, and in 2012, Google unveiled in an April Fools' Day prank that these things would partner with (*) NASCAR. In March 2017, one of these associated with Uber flipped in Arizona after a driver failed to yield. The Mercedes type of these things is called Distronic, and the Tesla type is called Autopilot. For 10 points, identify these types of vehicles that don't need people to drive them.
ANSWER: self-driving cars [or autonomous car or driverless car or robotic car; do not accept automated car]

6. In 2009, Megan Lawless of Chicago met her future spouse Jasper Jasperse of the Netherlands as a direct result of one of these things. Many of these things have been created by MegaZebra and by Playfish, the latter of which is known for creating one of these things called Pet Society which shut down in 2013. One of these things requires Energy to do jobs and Stamina and Health to fight or rob others; that freemium type of these things is called (*) Mafia Wars. Another of these things has a sequel subtitled "Country Escape" and features cherry trees and ewes that don't die. One notable example of these things is similar to Scrabble but with the addition of a chat feature. For 10 points, name these things that include Trivia Crack, Candy Crush Saga, Words With Friends, and FarmVille.
ANSWER: Facebook games [or social network games; prompt on mobile games or similar; accept Words With Friends before "MegaZebra"]

7. This player has never won a Super Bowl, but was still inducted into the Pro Football Hall Fame in 2005. This player, whose middle name is the same as the emperor who depicted his defeat of Maxentius in reliefs on a triumphal arch, played his college football at Pittsburgh. He was the last quarterback taken in the first round of the 1983 NFL Draft, but won (*) Rookie of the Year. This quarterback is now 5th all time and was surpassed by Drew Brees in 2011. For 10 points, name this quarterback who currently holds five Monday Night Football records as well as 2 records for the most seasons leading the league in pass attempts and completions, who played his entire pro career with the Miami Dolphins.
ANSWER: Dan Constantine Marino Jr.

8. Garfield once declared that this thing is "Halloween," though he later realizes it doesn't work very well. In Rugrats in Paris, when Coco tells Stu to get to work, Stu replies that this thing is "Mechanical Expertise." For Elton John, this thing is "Hercules," and in The Big Bang Theory, Sheldon tells Leonard that this thing is actually (*) "Lee," but that he prefers that this thing be "Trouble." In The Office, when Dwight gets a concussion and Michael has to fill out a hospital admission form, Dwight says that this thing is "Danger." For 10 points, name this thing which for Donald Trump is "John."
ANSWER: middle name

9. These brothers are "mirror" twins, and as a result, one partner plays left-handed, the other plays right-handed. In January 2017, they were reunited with their previous coach Phil Farmer, who led them to their first grand slam title. These twins are well known for celebrating winning points by (*) chest-bumping each other. This legendary doubles duo lost in the semifinals of the 2017 U.S. Open. However, together, they have won 16 men's doubles championships at grand slams. For 10 points, give the last name of this tennis doubles pair, born three minutes apart from each other.
ANSWER: Mike and Bob Bryan

10. In X-Men: Days of Future Past, three Sentinels are able to kill Bishop by employing this special technique. In Avengers: Age of Ultron, Thor, Iron Man, and Vision defeat the main villain by employing this tactic. In Ghostbusters, Egon notes that doing this would be bad, "all life as you know it stopping instantaneously and every molecule in your body exploding at the speed of light." However, (*) later in that film, the four protagonists are able to defeat Gozer and still survive by performing this action with their packs, causing a giant explosion in the process. Harry Potter and Voldemort's "wands sort of" do this when they fight in a graveyard. For 10 points, identify this action in which multiple characters utilize certain types of weapons in tandem.
ANSWER: combining beams of energy [prompt on partial answer; accept crossing the streams or anything about connecting or colliding lasers or electricity or protons]

11. This player was drafted with the number one overall pick in the 2011 WPS draft by the Western New York Flash after graduating early from the University of California, Berkeley. At the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup, this player was the youngest on the United States (*) Women's national team. In 2012, she was named the U.S. Soccer Female Athlete of the Year and was a finalist for the FIFA World Player of the Year award. For 10 points, name this striker who wears number 13 for the women's national team and played for both Lyon in France and the Orlando Pride during the 2017 season.
ANSWER: Alex Morgan Carrasco

12. This character once requested that his nephew watch over this character's hoard overnight, resulting in the capture of this character's nephew by subordinates of King K. Rool. In the only game in which Mario appears as a villain, this character's (*) son must evade birds and electrical wires in order to save this character from imprisonment. In Super Smash Bros., this character can create shock waves by playing his bongos if the player presses A in time with the game's music. In the game in which this character first appeared, he throws fireballs and barrels to fend off Jumpman from rescuing Pauline. For 10 points, name this Western lowland gorilla who is the namesake of a Nintendo franchise.
ANSWER: Donkey Kong

13. This person once went to the movie theater, saw a sign that said, "Under 17 not permitted," and left to get sixteen friends. This person, who was baptized as SeaWorld, wears six different watches and has the Social Security number (*) 1. In the game Mortal Kombat, this person was told during a fight with Scorpion to "stay over there." This person's yellow teeth once caused traffic to slow down when this person smiled, and according to one source, the only letters that this person knows are K, F, and C. When God said, "Let there be light," God asked this person to move out of the way. For 10 points, name this person who is so fat that she takes selfies in panorama mode.
ANSWER: yo momma [accept equivalents]

14. In C.S. Lewis's Space Trilogy, Ransom makes a ninety-day journey to this planet, a member of the Field of Arbol, along with two Thulcandrians. In the Stargate series, inhabitants from this planet known as Tau'ri instigate the war against the Goa'uld after killing the Supreme System Lord Ra. In another series, this planet is colonized by passengers of an ark full of hairdressers, (*) telephone sanitizers, advertising executives, and the like; this planet from that series was built as a supercomputer to find the Question to the Ultimate Answer of Life, The Universe and Everything, though the Vogons destroy it five minutes before it finished computing. For 10 points, name this "mostly harmless" planet that is the destination of astronauts in Planet of the Apes.
ANSWER: Earth [or Terra; prompt on Thulcandra or Silent Planet before "Stargate"]

15. In 2010, a museum dedicated solely to this thing opened in Beaufort, South Carolina; that museum contains examples of this thing shaped like cartoon characters as well as electric varieties. A 1989 episode of the children's show Special Friends heavily featured this thing, instructing the viewer not to run, jump, or dance while using this thing. This instrument was featured in what sounds like a (*) trombone solo in "Crazy Blues" by the Original Dixieland Jazz Band, and The Mills Brothers began their career playing a quartet of these instruments with a guitar. In an oft-remixed video of a child playing this instrument on a VHS tape, the child shouts, "I like to have fun fun fun fun fun fun fun fun fun!" For 10 points, identify this buzzing toy instrument that can be played by anyone.
ANSWER: kazoo

16. In the Spiderwick Chronicles, a person who eats a Wyrm's heart will gain this ability. In Rick and Morty Season 3, Morty utilizes this special ability to gain intel on the re-destabilization of Argentina's economy in an effort to foster a coup and install a compliant regime. (*) Snow White possesses this ability, and in the movie Up, Charles Muntz creates special collars that allow him to do this. Characters who possess a subset of this ability include Aquaman and Harry Potter, the latter of whom shares that subset of this ability with other Parselmouths. For 10 points, name this ability possessed by Charisse, Maya, and their father, Dr. Dolittle.
ANSWER: communication with animals [or zoolingualism or faunal communication; prompt on Dolittling before the end]

17. This is the number of stars in the Paramount logo. In the third album by Bon Iver, this number provides the title for the first track and is followed by "A Million" in the album's title; that song includes the line, "It might be over soon." In a music video for another song with this number as its title, the singer wears (*) cat ears and jumps backwards into a pool; that song begins with the lyrics, "It feels like a perfect night to dress up like hipsters / And make fun of our exes." In a song by Jay-Z with this number in the title, the artist uses the homophones "to," "too," and "two" this many times in the first verse. For 10 points, give this number which Taylor Swift notes, "I don't know about you, but I'm feeling."
ANSWER: 22 [twenty-two]

18. Joe Buck once called one of these events "disgusting," but later became colleagues with the target of his disgust. A fictional one of these events occurs after Rod Tidwell is knocked out but regains consciousness in Jerry Maguire. Now-banned versions of these events have included ones with a Sharpie and popcorn by (*) Terrell Owens. The repercussions from Jimmy Graham dunking as part of these led to goalposts being banned from being a part of these events. Randy Moss claimed he was mocking fans of the Green Bay Packers in his one of these when he faked pulling down his pants; the Packers have their own version of these called the Lambeau Leap. Ones like the Eagles' bowling, the Steelers' hide 'n' seek, and the Vikings' "Duck, Duck, Goose" returned in 2017 after being unbanned by the NFL. For 10 points, give this event that often follows a 6 point score in football.
ANSWER: touchdown celebrations

19. In 2014, The Lonely Island released a parody video asking when this action will occur. In a video showing the unveiling of the first iPhone 6 bought by a consumer, this action occurred. In 2016, an ill-conceived April Fools' Day prank from Google saw email threads terminate with the inclusion of a GIF of this action occurring; that GIF consisted of a minion and a (*) microphone. A company partially named for this action was created after an MIT student kept forgetting his USB flash drive; that company primarily serves the purpose of cloud storage and file synchronization and is titled for this action along with the word "box." For 10 points, identify this action which can be done to the bass in electronic dance music.
ANSWER: drop [accept more specific answers like drop the bass or mic drop]

20. In the movie Aliens, Ellen Ripley is saved from a chestburster through this device. In the 1990 film Jacob's Ladder, the protagonist's death in Vietnam is revealed using this plot device. In Total Recall, the ending leaves it ambiguous as to whether or not this plot device has been employed, and at the end of Click, this plot device occurs with the protagonist in a (*) Bed Bath & Beyond store after a heartfelt death scene. At the end of The Wizard of Oz, Dorothy is able to return home to Kansas using this plot device. In another movie, a spinning top at the end may suggest that the protagonist still has not realized this. For 10 points, name this plot device used heavily in Inception, in which a character realizes that the previous events did not actually occur in real life.
ANSWER: when a character wakes up only to realize that it was all a dream

[TIE-BREAKER]: A scene of this type from the biopic film The Disaster Artist includes a cameo of Tommy Wiseau. In another scene of this type from the movie Airplane!, a taxicab passenger says, "Well, I'll give him another twenty minutes, but that's it." Napoleon Dynamite appears on (*) horseback in a scene of this type to interrupt Kip's wedding song about how much he loves technology. In a scene of this type in Spider-Man: Homecoming, Captain America is shown teaching about the value of patience, and in this type of scene from The Avengers, the protagonists eat in silence at Shawarma. For 10 points, identify this type of scene, in which Ferris Bueller tells the viewers, "You're still here? It's over. Go home. Go."
ANSWER: post-credits scene [or after-credits sequence; prompt on tag, stinger, or coda]

BONUSES:

1. In Baby Driver, Baby mimes playing the piano part of this piece to his co-conspirator's annoyance while still listening to the plan, for the 10 points each:
[10] Name this cool jazz piece in 7/4 ["seven-four"] time that opens with handclaps over a bass line, named for its time signature's "refusal" to be easily kept in rhythm.
ANSWER: "Unsquare Dance"
[10] "Unsquare Dance" is by this American jazz pianist, known for his irregular time signatures, who collaborated with saxophonist Paul Desmond on "Take Five."
ANSWER: Dave Brubeck
[10] Brubeck's "Blue Rondo á la Turk" was featured in a football scene in this 2005 comedy with Vince Vaughn and Owen Wilson performing the titular action.
ANSWER: Wedding Crashers

2. You're probably hoping for a bonus that doesn't involve animal names or comp math, so let's do both! For 10 points each:
[10] Take the number of letters in the name of the animal whose groups are called prides [pause] and multiply it by the number of letters in the name of a baby goat. Finally, add the number of dalmations in the title of the Disney movie in which Cruella De Vil tries to steal them for their fur.
ANSWER: 113 [4 (lion) * 3 (kid) + 101]
[10] Okay, the rest won't be that hard, we promise. This is the name for a collective group of monkeys, which shares its name with a classic toy game in which the player links the monkey's arms.
ANSWER: barrel
[10] Do you remember the flight number of the Malaysia Airlines plane that crashed back in 2014? Neither do we. Instead, start with the number which titles a 2014 sliding block app game in which a player combines multiples of two. Then, subtract the year Barack Obama was first elected president. [pause] Next, add the number in the name of an Irish rock band led by Bono [BONN-oh], [pause] and finally, subtract the answer to the Ultimate Question of Life, the Universe, and Everything. What is the result?
ANSWER: zero [2048 - 2008 + 2 (U2) - 42]

3. This 1987 film is narrated by a grandfather to his sick grandson, for 10 points each:
[10] Name this movie that features Princess Buttercup, her love Westley, and endlessly quotable lines.
ANSWER: The Princess Bride
[10] Westley's response to all of Buttercup's requests is this three word phrase.
ANSWER: "as you wish"
[10] A swordsman in The Princess Bride hunts a six-fingered man; upon meeting that man, he repeats this exact quote multiple times before avenging his father's death.
ANSWER: "Hello. My name is Inigo Montoya. You killed my father. Prepare to die."

4. Many people debate over whether this game is a sport or not a sport. For 10 points each,
[10] This sport (or game) is played by two players whose goal is to checkmate the opponent's king.
ANSWER: chess
[10] This current reigning world chess champion is Norwegian who is known to be a chess prodigy, reaching a grandmaster level at age 13.
ANSWER: Magnus Carlsen
[10] This former world chess champion, who is currently a political activist against the Russian government, was famous for playing IBM supercomputer Deep Blue and losing to it in 1997.
ANSWER: Garry Kasparov

5. Answer the following about a certain game show, for 10 points each:
[10] This game has a five-story tall pachinko board in which balls are dropped into money values. Those balls change color depending on whether the player in isolation gets the question right or wrong.
ANSWER: "The Wall"
[10] "The Wall" is a show produced by a group of people which famously includes this NBA superstar. There are rumors about him leaving for the Los Angeles Lakers.
ANSWER: LeBron James [accept either underlined portion]
[10] Whenever a player in isolation gets a question wrong in "The Wall," the balls that are dropped turn to this color.
ANSWER: red

6. Answer the following about Super Bowl Halftime Shows in the last decade, for 10 points each:
[10] This timeless English rock band performed at Super Bowl XLIV ["forty-four"], performing such hits as "Pinball Wizard" and "Won't Get Fooled Again". This band is headlined by Roger Daltrey and Pete Townshend.
ANSWER: The Who
[10] Although Super Bowl L ["fifty"] was headlined by Coldplay, that show is best remembered as the first live performance of this Beyonce hit, which was released the day before. This song's music video starts with a male voice saying "What happened after New Orleans."
ANSWER: "Formation"
[10] This singer will be headlining the Super Bowl on February 4, 2018. Many speculate that a number of songs from this singer's "Man of the Woods" album will make the set, as the album is expected for release two days prior.
ANSWER: Justin Timberlake

7. Answer the following about a certain NBA franchise, for 10 points each:
[10] This NBA team was home to "Lob City" featuring dunks by Blake Griffin and DeAndre Jordan often assisted by former player Chris Paul. Name this team that shares the Staples Center with the Lakers.
ANSWER: Los Angeles Clippers
[10] In order to deal with loss of guards Chris Paul and J.J. Reddick, the Clippers signed this Serbian guard, who has had a decorated 13-year international career including 1 FIBA Player of the Year award.
ANSWER: Milos Teodosic
[10] The current Clippers' owner, Steve Ballmer, purchased the franchise from this man's wife. This man was forced to sell the Clippers after recording of him making racist statements were made public.
ANSWER: Donald Sterling [or Donald Tokowitz]

8. Answer some questions about things that have the potential to destroy entire planets, for 10 points each:
[10] "You may fire when ready" is uttered by Grand Moff Tarkin before this weapon destroys Alderaan in A New Hope.
ANSWER: the Death Star
[10] In Guardians of the Galaxy, Ronan and Thanos try to use the orb in order to destroy this planet which is the birthplace of the Nova Corps.
ANSWER: Xandar
[10] In Doctor Who: The Movie, this time machine has the potential to destroy the Earth, if the Eye of Harmony within it is opened for too long.
ANSWER: TARDIS [or Time And Relative Dimension In Space]

9. Name these NCAA national champions, for 10 points each:
[10] This team won the 2005 BCS National Championship over two-time defending champion USC in a thrilling 41-38 finish.
ANSWER: Texas Longhorns [prompt on Longhorns]
[10] This team beat Derrick Rose and Memphis 75-68 in the 2008 NCAA Tournament Championship game. Darrell Arthur was their leading scorer in the game with 20 points.
ANSWER: Kansas Jayhawks [prompt on Jayhawks]
[10] This team won the College World Series in both 2006 and 2007, beating North Carolina both years. They are located in Corvallis.
ANSWER: Oregon State Beavers [prompt on Beavers]

10. New England Patriots tight end Rob Gronkowski was featured in a commercial asking "What the heck is going on, people?" in response to this phenomenon. For 10 points each:
[10] Name this dangerous challenge in which people attempt to eat a colorful detergent decidedly not meant for consumption.
ANSWER: Tide Pod challenge
[10] This edible spice was part of another challenge discouraged due to risks of breathing difficulties, vomiting, pneumonia, and lung damage.
ANSWER: cinnamon challenge
[10] Another stupid challenge was performing this destructive action in a supermarket in such a way as to appear accidental, leading to employees having to clean up a large liquid mess.
ANSWER: smashing a gallon of milk on the floor

11. Answer the following about NCAA sanctions and investigations, for 10 points each:
[10] This university used fake African Studies courses to help keep at-risk student-athletes academically eligible for football and basketball seasons. This scandal spanned more than 2 decades, and now this university will be a site of future NCAA investigation.
ANSWER: University of North Carolina [or UNC]
[10] This school fired head football coach, Art Briles, for his role in a sexual assault scandal at this university. This program did not get the death penalty or Penn State-like sanctions, but its football program is now in shambles after being upset by Liberty Flames in the 2017 season.
ANSWER: Baylor University
[10] An investigation into this university began when a video of their star tackle smoking a bong wearing a gas mask was released before the 2016 NFL draft. Recently this program's head coach resigned before the start of 2017 college football season after he was linked to running an escort service.
ANSWER: University of Mississippi [or Ole Miss]

12. This platform with the tagline "Make, Play, Discover" was unveiled to much disbelief in January 2018, for 10 points each:
[10] Name this extension for the Switch that consists of cardboard kits for a fishing rod and a piano keyboard, among others.
ANSWER: Nintendo Labo [Note to reader: do NOT mention Nintendo if answer is incorrect]
[10] The Labo is the latest release from this manufacturer of past consoles like the Wii and Gamecube.
ANSWER: Nintendo
[10] The Nintendo Switch uses this paired controller that can be attached to the console's LCD screen to play as a handheld device or detached to play when the console is docked.
ANSWER: Joy-Con

13. The first desk of the founder of this website was a door with four legs screwed on, for 10 points each:
[10] Name this website, whose name was spray painted onto a banner in the office with the founder's desk, back when it was starting as an online bookstore.
ANSWER: Amazon.com
[10] This founder of Amazon purchased The Washington Post in 2013 and became the wealthiest man in the world in a July 2017.
ANSWER: Jeff Bezos
[10] This co-founder of Facebook portrayed by Andrew Garfield in dramatized collaboration and conflict with Mark Zuckerberg in The Social Network renounced his U.S. citizenship in 2011.
ANSWER: Eduardo Saverin

14. Answer some questions about a certain number, for 10 points each:
[10] This three-digit number gives the area code widely used for fictional telephone number in movies, video games, and other media in North America, since this area code isn't used by any real people who could potentially be pranked.
ANSWER: 555
[10] Rounded to the nearest foot, 555 gives the height of this structure which was the world's tallest until the completion of the Eiffel Tower. This obelisk was built to commemorate the first President of the United States.
ANSWER: Washington Monument
[10] "Five-five-five" is the name of a song by this American musician, titled for the song's odd time signature pattern. This 1995 Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee also wrote "Montana" and "Joe's Garage."
ANSWER: Frank Zappa

15. In January, 2017, this thing ordered a $170 dollhouse for a six-year-old girl who wanted to play. For 10 points each:
[10] Name this device which helps people at home. When the dollhouse story was broadcast on the local news, more of these things around Dallas,Texas proceeded to place orders with their parent company after hearing the TV.
ANSWER: Amazon Echo [or Alexa]
[10] Another intelligent personal assistant for the home is this smart speaker being developed and created by a company which wishes to integrate Airplay and Siri with this device.
ANSWER: Apple HomePod
[10] While most personal assistants are woken up when the user simply says "Hey" with their name, Google Home users must use this phrase.
ANSWER: "OK, Google"

16. This 1928 film is the first Disney cartoon with synchronized sound, including character sounds and a complete score, for 10 points each:
[10] Name this film considered to be the debut of Mickey Mouse as the titular character on the titular vessel.
ANSWER: Steamboat Willie
[10] This third Disney animated feature film included a well known classical music soundtrack conducted by Leopold Stokowski.
ANSWER: Fantasia
[10] Mickey stars in a segment of Fantasia featuring multiplying brooms set to this symphonic poem by Paul Dukas.
ANSWER: The Sorcerer's Apprentice

17. Answer some questions about a certain author, for 10 points each:
[10] This American author of young adult fiction wrote such novels as Looking for Alaska and The Fault in Our Stars.
ANSWER: John Green
[10] This novel by John Green about the search for Q Jacobson was made into a movie released in 2015.
ANSWER: Paper Towns
[10] John Green is also a YouTube personality on the channel VlogBrothers with his brother Hank. This is the most famous of John Green's channels, an educational series that covers literature, science, history, and more recently astronomy and politics.
ANSWER: Crash Course

18. Name these players based on the year, draft slot, and team, for 10 points each:
[10] In 2014, this Cleveland Cavaliers player was pick number one overall.
ANSWER: Andrew Wiggins
[10] In 2011, this Denver Broncos player was pick number two overall.
ANSWER: Von Miller
[10] In 2009, Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim was pick number 25 overall.
ANSWER: Mike Trout

19. Answer the following about the cast of Friends after the show ended in 2004, for 10 points each:
[10] This actress, who popularized "The Rachel" haircut in the 1990s, received a Golden Globe Best Actress nomination in 2014 for her role as Claire Bennnet in the drama Cake. In her personal life, this actress is married to actor Justin Theroux.
ANSWER: Jennifer Aniston
[10] Matt LeBlanc, who played Joey Tribbiani in Friends, now plays lead man Adam Burns on this CBS sitcom. Set in Pittsburgh, this sitcom revolves around LeBlanc's Adam Burns adapting to life as a stay-at-home dad.
ANSWER: Man With A Plan
[10] This actor, following a number of years as a director, played Robert Kardashian in the first season of FX's American Crime Story. This actor played older brother of Courteney Cox's Monica Geller in Friends.
ANSWER: David Schwimmer

20. Identify the following war board games, for 10 points each:
[10] This notably long game of global domination includes infantry representing one unit, cavalry representing five units, and artillery representing ten units. Players attack with three red dice, defend with two white dice, and often end up holing up in Australia with its two unit bonus and with Siam being the only route out.
ANSWER: Risk
[10] This Milton Bradley game is played on a 10-by-10 grid labeled A1 through J10, and players take turns targeting squares in order to destroy the title objects ranging in length from two to five units.
ANSWER: Battleship
[10] This two-player game is also played on a 10-by-10 grid where a player cannot see information about his opponent's pieces. Each piece has a rank, and some pieces can do special tasks: the Miner can defuse bombs, the Scout can move any distance in a straight line, and the Spy can defeat the highest-ranking piece, the Marshal.
ANSWER: Stratego