TOSSUPS

1. This player received his first college basketball scholarship from Northern Arizona University when he was 14. After graduating high school early, he signed up to attend the college whose former players include Shane Battier and Elton Brand. This former high-school basketball player from Tempe, Arizona was the number 1 overall recruit in a basketball class which included a prolific (*) dunker who plays for Spartanburg Day School. In the 2017 Drew League, this player played alongside James Harden and Chris Paul. Name this forward who displaced Michael Porter Jr. as the top prospect of the Class of 2018 with a recent successful reclassification and started attending Duke in Fall 2017.
ANSWER: Marvin Bagley III

2. This song's creator said that the song was about chasing your dreams and becoming better every single day. That same man performed this song at Teen Fest 2017, where he fell over while performing. One line in this song translates to, "There's a person above us, his name is Donald Trump." That line was said after the Martinez Twins asked if they could switch the (*) language. The description of this song on YouTube reads, "WE WROTE, SHOT, and EDITED THIS IN 1 DAY. HOPE YOU ENJOY..." Other notable lines in this song mention merchandise "sellin' like a god church!" and Nick Crompton stating that, "England is my city." For 10 points, name this May 2017 release by Jake Paul and the band Team 10.
ANSWER: "It's Everyday Bro"

3. This director began his career in the music video medium, directing three Rick Springfield videos in 1984. He directed his first feature film in 1992, but has famously disowned the movie, claiming that studio interference compromised his vision. This man later gained commercial and critical success with (*) dark crime thrillers, including one in which a serial killer is motivated by a set of deadly sins. This director has been nominated twice for the Academy Award for Best Director, most recently for The Social Network. For 10 points, name this acclaimed filmmaker behind Seven and Fight Club.
ANSWER: David Fincher

4. The namesake character in this game was created by Dr. Vargas to use in a war against goblins. That character can change his size by adding more relics to his body, and the sequel allows the player to play co-op as a blue version of the character. This game was poorly reviewed, but gained notoriety when Youtuber (*) VideogameDunkey featured it in his History of Gaming video, where he hypes it up only to say "it only sold three copies" and "was the worst game ever made". For 10 points, name this PS4 launch title who "is back" in a September 2017 sequel.
ANSWER: Knack

5. This musical group began as a hardcore punk band in 1981 and originally included drummer Kate Schellenbach and guitarist John Berry. With the encouragement of producer Rick Rubin, this group underwent a stylistic change to hip-hop, and their debut album is still the only album by a Jewish hip-hop act to receive five mics from The Source. This group disbanded in 2012 when the group's bassist (*) passed away from cancer. They are currently one of only five hip-hop groups in the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. For 10 points, name this NYC trio behind such hits as "Sabotage" and "No Sleep Till Brooklyn."
ANSWER: The Beastie Boys

6. In one film series, this object is anthropomorphized and named Todd, according to a special features disk. In another movie, it appears hidden on an asteroid, and in a short for another series, this object is made of Legos. This object appears as a trinket on the worktable of the Witch's cottage in the movie Brave, and this object notably does (*) not appear in The Incredibles. In Wall-E, Eve is not able to find any life in this object after scanning under its hood. This thing has a tag that reads RES1536, and it is a 1978 Gyoza. Ham reads the owner's manual to this automobile in Toy Story 2, and in the first Toy Story movie, Buzz and Woody hitch a ride in this after Woody calls it a spaceship. For 10 points, name this food delivery vehicle with a red rocket on the top featured in almost every Pixar film.
ANSWER: pizza planet truck

7. In the hip-hop musical In the Heights, this thing's relation to New York City's smog is referenced in a lyric explaining that there "Ain't no [this thing] in Washington Heights." In the episode "Patient X" from The X-Files, Veronica Cartwright plays an alien abductee who leaves fingerprints on a window corresponding to the shape of this thing. Though not Medusa, in League of Legends this thing titles a creature who is (*) half woman and half snake, a daughter of a family of Noxus who kills people with her stare. In the film Contact, Jodie Foster says that she likes to listen to a supernova remnant located within this constellation. For 10 points, identify this constellation shaped like a W who in Greek mythology names the vain wife of King Cepheus.
ANSWER: Cassiopeia

8. This author controversially supported Japanese internment during World War 2, stating that "if we want to win, we've got to kill Japs." Fittingly, this man was responsible for creating the propaganda film Our Job in Japan when drafted into World War 2. This author was on his way home to burn the original manuscript of one of his stories when he was offered a publication deal for his story titled (*) And to Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street. Some contend that this man secretly references the dropping of the atomic bombs in certain lines of his Horton Hears a Who. For 10 points, name this children's book author, who wrote such books as Green Eggs and Ham and The Lorax.
ANSWER: Dr. Seuss [accept Theodor Geisel]

9. This franchise comprises twelve films and a television show, along with various novels and comic books. Beginning in 1980 with a hugely successful first film, this series is largely centered around the killing of libidinous teenagers by (*) an immortal masked killer. In the most recent film in this franchise, the antagonist was given a backstory, and his mask was redesigned from the original mold of the mask from the third movie. Films in this series involve the killer going to space, taking Manhattan, and battling Freddy Krueger. For 10 points, identify this franchise that centers around the character Jason Voorhees and is named for an unlucky day of the month.
ANSWER: Friday the 13th

10. Rumor has it that this board game was created when the creators lost their Scrabble pieces and decided to make their own game up instead. Lawsuits were raised by Fred L. Worth in 1984 against the creators of this board game, claiming that over one quarter of the questions used in this game were plagiarized from his book. Founded in 1979, editions of this game are called (*) "genuses," with the most recent being released in 2012. Since its creation, pink has stood for entertainment and green has stood for science and nature, and players attempt to gather 6 wedges from each category to win. For 10 points, name this classic trivia board game.
ANSWER: Trivial Pursuit

11. In one scene in this film, a character tells the protagonist, "Let me tell you something my friend. Hope is a dangerous thing. Hope can drive a man insane." This 1994 Frank Darabont-directed film was a box-office disappointment upon its initial release, due to tough competition from films like Pulp Fiction, though it is now the highest-rated movie by user score in IMDB. An (*) oak tree in Mansfield, Ohio which marked a box found at the end of this film was struck by lightning in 2011 and eventually was completely cut down in April, 2017. For 10 points, name this film that takes place in a Maine prison and stars Tim Robbins and Morgan Freeman.
ANSWER: The Shawshank Redemption [prompt on Shawshank]

12. The first recorded use of this topic for a meme relates it to a similarly-named font, and this thing sparked in popularity after a Reddit post of a king using one of these objects was highly upvoted. This object fought alongside the Crusaders in the me_irl meme war of October 2016. Around the same time, a meme showed that between Hillary, Trump, and this object, only this thing possessed a certain unique capability. In (*) Age of Empires, this object can be built at a castle for 200 wood and 200 gold. The most common meme with these things in them talks about their ability to launch a "ninety kilogram stone over 300 meters." For 10 points, name this memetic siege weapon that is definitely better than a catapult.
ANSWER: trebuchet

13. This man won the 2009 FINA World Championship for the 10 meter platform event at the age of 15. In 2012, he won the bronze medal in the same event at the London Olympic Games in his home country. In 2013, he said that "[he has]never been happier" after announcing his relationship with a (*) man in a YouTube video. In 2008, he was the youngest member of Team Great Britain at the Beijing Olympics, then just 14. For 10 points, name this diver who set an Olympic record for score in the preliminary round of the individual 10 meter platform event in 2016 before finishing 18th in the semifinal round and failing to reach the Olympic final.
ANSWER: Tom Daley

14. In 2009, this song was rerecorded using a full band and was featured on the artist's EP "Live (Only Not)." This song was originally released under the pseudonym "Lemon Demon." This song was the #1 request on the Dr. Demento show in 2006. A particularly ethereal scene in the Flash animated music video for this song shows an angelic Chuck Norris kicking Indiana Jones in the (*) crotch and includes depictions of Abraham Lincoln trying to kill people with an AK-47 and then a machete. This song eventually ends with Mr. Rogers winning a city-wide battle and committing seppuku. For 10 points, name this song by Neil Cicierega released in 2005 that recounts the events of a large battle in Tokyo between many pop culture icons.
ANSWER: "The Ultimate Showdown of Ultimate Destiny"

15. One justification for this theory is that the central character surrounding this theory moves his hands and arms while being given a promotion. This theory is referenced during a Robot Chicken segment which shows its subject sitting in front of a fireplace. This theory posits that its central figure utilizes a "drunken fist" style of fighting. This theory claims that its central character, before being rewritten as (*) comic relief, was going to be revealed as a master manipulator, responsible for the events of a famous trilogy of movies. For 10 points, give this theory which states that a clumsy and annoying gungan is actually a master of the Dark Side of the Force.
ANSWER: the theory that Jar-Jar Binks is actually a Sith Lord [prompt on partial answer]

16. The first episode of this YouTube series, started in November 2014, involves a set of four men attempting to recreate the infamous Kim Kardashian Butt photo. Mini-series within this YouTube series include "Fatherhood," "K-Pop," and "Feast Mode." One of the four men who frequently appear in this series, Ned, is constantly heckled about his love for his wife Ariel. This series, sponsored by (*) Buzzfeed, hosts a spinoff series called "Squad Wars," in which real life groups of friends compete in friendly competition. For 10 points, name this YouTube series in which Zach, Ned, Keith, and Eugene set out to attempt new things.
ANSWER: The Try Guys [prompt on Buzzfeed before mention]

17. The film A Girl Walks Home Alone at Night depicts the doings of a "lonesome vampire" in the "ghost-town Bad City" of this country. George Clooney won an Oscar for the film Syriana, in which he travels to this country to kill two arms dealers. The climax of the Academy-Award winning film (*) Argo takes place in the airport of the capital city of this country, when Ben Affleck's character extricates Americans who narrowly escaped being taken hostage during the storming of the U.S. Embassy. For 10 points, name this Middle Eastern country, previously known as Persia.
ANSWER: Iran

18. This celebrity's first television appearance is in a documentary titled Boiling Point. According to Forbes, this man is the 21st richest celebrity in the world, the highest in his specific profession. A YouTube video of this man making scrambled eggs has over 24 million views. A restaurant in (*) London named for this man has three Michelin stars. One of this man's many roasts on Twitter likened a photo by Lauren Amy Smith to his grandad's knee replacement. An infamous episode with this man involved one of the few times he walked out and quit when the owners of Amy's Baking Company were obstinate beyond "normal" reality TV. For 10 points, name this verbally abusive chef who has a well known taste for lamb sauce.
ANSWER: Gordon Ramsay

19. In one music video by this artist, actors from Saved By The Bell and She's All That make brief cameos as students from University High School. In that same video, this artist is named prom king. In another music video, this artist drives through the desert surrounding his hometown of El Paso to go to a pool party. This artist is featured alongside Logic and Alessia Cara on the chart-topping single (*) 1-800-273-8255. In this artist's top-selling single, he croons that he and his beloved should "focus on communicatin' / 'cause I just need the time and place to come through". For 10 points, name this 19-year-old artist whose debut album American Teen includes songs like Young Dumb & Broke and Location.
ANSWER: Khalid

20. One character in this TV show uses the code word "I love you" before she breaks someone's neck. Another character named Ruben dies after baking banana bread. One character on this show profusely refuses to go into the Sin Bin; that character's real name is Kevin Thompson. Another character in this show, a doctor named Wendy, tries to kill her wife with one thousand cuts but is murdered by her wife, (*) Jeri Hogarth, when Jeri brings home a strange man who has just killed his parents by controlling their minds. Earlier in the show, Hope Shlottman also kills her parents while under Kilgrave's influence. For 10 points, name this Marvel show in which the title character uses her superhuman strength to cope with her PTSD and kill her abuser.
ANSWER: Jessica Jones

[TIE-BREAKER]: The first and only rematch of the 2006 Rose Bowl occurred in this city. One proposal for construction in the suburbs of this city was led by Stan Kroenke, and a rejected proposal caused one team to plan a move to Las Vegas. The stadium of the winning proposal in this city will house two teams starting in 2020, as well as the (*) opening ceremony for the 2028 Olympics. In the meantime, one team from this city is sharing the StubHub Center, while the other NFL team from this city is sharing the Memorial Coliseum. For 10 points, name this California city, home to the Galaxy, USC Trojans, Chargers, and the Rams, as well as the Clippers, Lakers, and Dodgers.
ANSWER: Los Angeles

BONUSES:

1. Identify each of these slang terms from Pittsburghese, for 10 points each:
[10] This word is the Pittsburgh-equivalent of "y'all." Derived from "you uhns", many dispute whether the last letter of this word is an "s" or a "z."
ANSWER: "yinz"
[10] A familiarity with Hubba Bubba and Trident may help identify this Pittsburghese word for rubber band.
ANSWER: gumband
[10] Faucets can go by this term in Pittsburgh. It begins with an "s" and is derived from the Middle English term for a "wooden stopper."
ANSWER: "spigot"

2. Answer the following about different species of Pokémon, for 10 points each:
[10] This Pokémon is the starter Pokémon for the grass type. The most remarkable feature of this green Pokémon is the large bulb situated on its back.
ANSWER: Bulbasaur
[10] This Pokémon is the final form of Charmander. This Pokémon is defined by a large orange body and dominant blue wings.
ANSWER: Charizard
[10] This Pokémon possesses the ability to expand the oceans. Unlike other air types, this legendary Pokémon is not known to evolve from or into any other Pokémon.
ANSWER: Kyogre

3. In Scott Weinberg's review of this film, he writes, "[It's a] schmaltzy little piece of obvious fluff that's directed in truly horrendous fashion and populated by cardboard characters who spit out simplistic platitudes and breathy pop tunes." For 10 points each:
[10] Name this Disney Channel movie in which the two main characters meet at a ski resort karaoke night and sing "Start of Something New." Another character in this movie wears 9 different hats and sings a duet with his sister Sharpay called "Bop the Top."
ANSWER: High School Musical
[10] One character in High School Musical transposes a song for Gabriella Montez and Troy Bolton that includes the lyrics, "I've never had someone as good for me as you / No one like you." In the third movie, this character composes much of the senior musical and is accepted into Juilliard.
ANSWER: Kelsi Nielsen
[10] Troy's best friend in the High School Musical franchise is Chad Danforth and is portrayed by this actor, who also played the double-dutch jumper Isadore "Izzy" Daniels in Jump In!
ANSWER: Corbin Bleu

4. Answer the following about infamous curses in baseball, for 10 points each:
[10] The Cleveland Indians are plagued by this curse whose namesake player was traded to the Detroit Tigers in 1960, which to this day has prevented them from winning a World Series title.
ANSWER: Curse of Rocky Colavito
[10] The Curse of Coogan's Bluff affected this franchise after it was relocated from New York City to its present location in California in 1958.
ANSWER: San Francisco Giants [accept either underlined portion]
[10] In 1945, the owner of the Billy Goat Tavern said of this team, "they ain't gonna win no more" after being kicked out of the ballpark because of the smell of his pet goat. This curse was recently broken in the 2016 World Series.
ANSWER: Chicago Cubs [accept either underlined portion]

5. Answer some questions about how the Americans faked the moon landing, for 10 points each
[10] This director used his experience filming 2001: A Space Odyssey to fake the moon landing. He later created The Shining as a veiled confession.
ANSWER: Stanley Kubrick
[10] Jamie Hyneman and Adam Savage are obviously on NASA payroll, as they released an episode of this show claiming to debunk the moon landing conspiracy.
ANSWER: Mythbusters
[10] This astronaut punched a moon landing hoax promoter in the face after the theorist publicly harassed him. He is notably reclusive when it comes to publicity surrounding his apparent landing.
ANSWER: Buzz Aldrin

6. Contrary to what you may learn in many children's shows, life is actually really hard and it sucks. For 10 points each:
[10] Name this musical created by Robert Lopez and Jeff Marx, a spoof of Sesame Street that features actors visibly using puppets onstage to address the issues of adulthood.
ANSWER: Avenue Q
[10] Characters argue over whether Jesus was black or white until another comments that he was Jewish and an "Oriental wife" complains about Jews and whites in this very politically-correct Avenue Q song.
ANSWER: "Everybody's a Little Bit Racist"
[10] Gary Coleman and Nicky sing about clapping "when a waitress falls and drops a tray of glasses" and enjoying "watching figure skaters falling down on their..." bottoms in this song whose title is a German word for deriving enjoyment from others' pain.
ANSWER: "Schadenfreude"

7. Answer the following about Lesley Gore's debut album in 1963, for 10 points each.
[10] The first song on this album focuses on the narrator, who throws a birthday party for herself only to find that her boyfriend Johnny is bringing a new date to the party. The narrator then sings this title phrase and declares, "and I'll cry if I want to."
ANSWER: It's My Party
[10] Five of the twelve songs on the album focus on this title action, mostly stemming from the narrator's intense sadness at her boyfriend's infidelity. Track seven, however, is about "Judy's Turn To" do this, after the narrator successfully steals her boyfriend back.
ANSWER: cry [or tears or similar]
[10] The chorus from "It's My Party" is sampled in the song "Pity Party" by this artist, who also wrote "Dollhouse," "Soap," and "Sippy Cup."
ANSWER: Melanie Martinez

8. Answer some questions about actors who played Batman, for 10 points each:
[10] This otherwise respected actor completely bombed his role as Batman in the 1997 Batman & Robin also starring Arnold Schwarzenegger.
ANSWER: George Clooney
[10] This Batman preceded Clooney in films like Batman Returns. He also voices Chick Hicks in Cars, and he starred as the title character in Beetlejuice.
ANSWER: Michael Keaton
[10] Michael Keaton won a Best Actor Oscar for this film, which fictionalizes his post-Batman career.
ANSWER: Birdman*: or the Unexpected Virtue of Ignorance*

9. Answer the following about a certain PC game (don't ever play this game with a controller), for 10 points each:
[10] Name this popular first-person shooter game first released in 1999, with later variants with names such as 1.6 and Global Offensive.
ANSWER: Counter-Strike [prompt on CS]
[10] Counter-Strike was originally a mod based on Half-Life, meaning that it runs on this game engine that also subtitles a previous installment in the Counter-Strike franchise.
ANSWER: Source engine
[10] The most popular map in Counter-Strike is this map created by Dave Johnston. It was recently removed from the competitive map pool despite being heralded as one of the greatest first-person shooter maps of all time.
ANSWER: Dust 2

10. A notable scene in this video series features a potato pulling out a gun and saying "Not today" when threatened with being stepped upon. For 10 points each:
[10] Name this video series first released in 2008 with 10 installments consisting of random and sometimes repetitive scenes involving stick figure drawings.
ANSWER: asdfmovie
[10] The asdfmovie series was created by this YouTube celebrity who also created Eddsworld and Crash Zoom.
ANSWER: TomSka
[10] TomSka later created a music video for this phrase that is first used in the first asdfmovie and is reprised in the third iteration. This phrase often precedes a character getting run over by a certain vehicle.
ANSWER: "I like trains"

11. Answer some questions about a certain region, for 10 points each.
[10] In an episode of The Simpsons, Principal Skinner claims that people from this region call hamburgers "steamed hams." Superintendent Chalmers says that he's from Utica [YOO-di-kuh] and has never heard anyone say it.
ANSWER: Upstate New York
[10] Following Chalmers' comment, Skinner replies that "steamed ham" is actually an expression from this city, the capital of New York.
ANSWER: Albany
[10] This upstate New York town is known entirely for being the home of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum.
ANSWER: Cooperstown

12. Curling is actually a bit more complicated than you might have thought. For 10 points each:
[10] Curling involves moving objects given by this name across a 150 foot long sheet of ice. Regulation varieties of this implement weigh between 38 and 44 pounds and are polished to allow them to slide smoothly.
ANSWER: stone [or rock]
[10] Both the men's and women's teams from this country won Olympic gold in curling in the 2014 Olympic Games.The teams competed for a berth on the national team in its capital of Ottawa.
ANSWER: Canada
[10] The captain, or the person who throws the stone and instructs the sweepers, goes by this name. This person is responsible for influencing the curl of the sweep and for the line from which the stone is tossed.
ANSWER: skip

13. In 2012, this man attempted to trademark his personal catchphrase, "Jeah," but eventually abandoned the application. For 10 points each:
[10] This American swimmer ignited a controversy with a story about allegedly being robbed at the 2016 Summer Olympics in Rio de Janeiro. He also won his 12th Olympic medal as part of the 4x200 meter freestyle relay team.
ANSWER: Ryan Lochte
[10] Lochte is second only to this other American swimmer in the number of career Olympic medals, who has 23 golds and 28 total. He won 5 golds and a silver in Rio.
ANSWER: Michael Phelps
[10] Second to Phelps in Rio in medals was this then-19 year old American swimmer, who set world records in the 400 and 800 meter freestyle en route to 4 golds and a silver. She then went to Stanford to crush NCAA competition.
ANSWER: Katie Ledecky

14. Name the following things in popular Vines, for 10 points each:
[10] This word is chanted in a Vine in which a boy dances while miming gun positions. This word follows Vine phrases such as "Y'all mind if I hit that," and one girl shouts this word while throwing an empty soda can.
ANSWER: "yeet"
[10] This inquisitive phrase is used in Vines while the speaker points to the shoes of a victim.
ANSWER: "What are thoooooooooooooose" [grudgingly prompt on a mere "What are those"]
[10] Speaking of shoes, this man's name comes up in Vines, where the speaker says that this man is "back at it again with the white vans."
ANSWER: Daniel

15. Answer some questions about arguably the greatest rap duo of all time, for 10 points each
[10] This pair has hits like "Mrs. Jackson" and "Hey Ya." They won a Grammy for Best Rap Album with their album Stankonia.
ANSWER: OutKast
[10] Big Boi and this other rapper form OutKast. This man was featured on Frank Ocean's "Pink Matter."
ANSWER: Andre 3000
[10] OutKast hails from this city. When merged with the word "aliens," this city forms the name of one of their albums.
ANSWER: Atlanta (that album is ATLiens)

16. A promotion for one of the final episodes of this TV show featured the main character reciting a Percy Shelley poem over time lapses of the New Mexico desert. For 10 points each:
[10] Name this AMC series which aired from 2008 to 2013. It features a teacher's turn to the world of synthesizing methamphetamine in order to provide for his family after being diagnosed with lung cancer.
ANSWER: Breaking Bad
[10] After Walter White brazenly doubles the amount of meth he promises to bring to a high-level drug dealer, he formulates a new method to synthesize the drug using this organic compound as precursor.
ANSWER: methylamine [or aminomethane I guess]
[10] The creator of Breaking Bad, Vince Gilligan, likened Walt's transformation throughout the series to the transformation from Mr. Chips into this character from a 1983 movie.
ANSWER: Scarface

17. Answer some questions about plucky Disney sidekicks, for 10 points each:
[10] In Frozen, Elsa accidentally creates this not-so-bright snowman who wants to experience summer.
ANSWER: Olaf
[10] This Eddie Murphy-voiced dragon is Mulan's family's guardian, or at least he claims to be.
ANSWER: Mushu
[10] This yellow fish is a sidekick in The Little Mermaid. Despite his name, he appears to be some type of tropical fish.
ANSWER: Flounder

18. Answer some questions about the most controversial NBA rookie in the 2017 draft, for 10 points each:
[10] Lonzo Ball was drafted by the Lakers, and immediately began selling hats and other merchandise under this label.
ANSWER: Big Baller Brand
[10] This father of Lonzo caused controversy when he claimed he could beat Michael Jordan one-on-one, despite barely playing in the NBA.
ANSWER: LaVar Ball
[10] LaVar lost a 4 point shooting competition to this rapper who released the song "It Was a Good Day" on his 1993 album The Predator. This rapper also starred in the film Are We There Yet?
ANSWER: Ice Cube

19. Answer the following about celebrities that have raised money for hurricane relief, for 10 points each:
[10] This Houston Texans defensive end raised over thirty-seven million dollars over Twitter in response to Hurricane Harvey, well exceeding his goal of two-hundred-thousand dollars.
ANSWER: JJ Watt
[10] This pop icon released a remix of "Mi Gente" on September 29, 2017 with all proceeds going to hurricane relief sustained throughout the fall of 2017. In addition to this remix, this songstress recently gave birth to twins.
ANSWER: Beyoncé Giselle Knowles-Carter [accept either underlined portion; do not accept Solange Knowles]
[10] This Latin American pop artist, nicknamed Mr. Worldwide, has chartered his private jet to help cancer patients evacuate from Puerto Rico in light of Hurricane Maria.
ANSWER: Pitbull [or Armando Christian Perez]

20. Answer some questions about a TV musical game show, for 10 points each:
[10] A show titled Beat [this thing] asks contestants to compete against this widely-used app that is able to recognize music, movies, advertising, and television shows based on a short sample its picks up.
ANSWER: Shazam
[10] Beat Shazam's host is this American actor who collaborated with Kanye West on the song "Gold Digger."
ANSWER: Jamie Foxx
[10] The DJ for Beat Shazam is this wife of former NFL player Tony Gonzalez. Her name also gives a month of the year.
ANSWER: October Gonzalez