

FORT OSAGE NOVICE SET (FONS)

Questions edited by Joshua Malecki. Questions written by: Ethan Morrow, Lydia Calderon, Colin Turnham, Brady Orwick, Douglas McIntosh, Josh Merithew, Joseph Seaba, Dexter Wickham, Maya Baughn, Mia Phillips, Zachary Beltz, and Joshua Malecki.

Round 5

1. The earliest study on these objects was done by Fritz Zwicky and Walter Baade. These objects have been classified according to their light curves and the presence or absence of hydrogen. One of the earliest recorded observations of one of these objects was by Chinese astronomers,* and another of these objects created the Crab Nebula in 1054. For 10 points, name these astronomical objects, which come in Type I or II based on their lines of hydrogen, created by a stellar explosion that briefly outshines an entire galaxy before fading from view.

Supernovae

2. The individuals that died in this event had just ended a strike, which failed to create a unionized shop. Most of the people that died in this event were on the 9th floor of the building, although the incident began on the 8th floor.* The 9th floor did not have a telephone, but locked doors caused panic to set in, as the fire escape collapsed. For 10 points, name this 1911 incident, in which a dropped cigarette began a fire in the Asch Building, resulting in the deaths of 146 people, the majority of which were women, the worst workplace disaster in New York City until 9/11.

Triangle Shirtwaist Fire

3. William Faulkner once said that this novel was the book “he wished he had written,” and the original British edition in 1851 completely omitted the epilogue. This novel is based on the true story of the Essex,* which was sunk in 1820 at sea by one of the creatures described in the novel. The protagonist joins a whale-hunting mission on the Pequod, meets Daggoo and Queequeg, whose namesake “coffin” saves the protagonist after his ship is destroyed by the title “monster.” For 10 points, name this novel, which sold fewer than 4,000 copies during the author’s lifetime, by Herman Melville about the title “white whale.”

Moby Dick

4. The most prominent schools in Europe performing and writing these were located in Mannheim, Milan, and Vienna in the 18th century. One of the longest of these that is regularly performed today was by Gustav Mahler,* and it typically consists of four parts, one of which is a rondo. One of these with vocals is referred to as a “choral” one, as with Beethoven’s 9th. For 10 points, name these musical compositions that can either be numbered like Mahler’s 3rd, or named as in Joseph Haydn’s “Surprise,” performed by orchestras.

Symphony (ies)

5. The topography of this state changes from east to west because of a prominent river, with the “East River” region raising most of its crops. The “West River” region’s economy of this Great Plains state depends on dryland farming, cattle ranching, and military installations, which includes Ellsworth* Air Force Base. This state’s city of Mitchell contains the world’s only Corn Palace, and its southeastern city of Sturgis features a major motorcycle rally every year. Name this state, divided in half by the Missouri River, of which 9% of the population is Native American, and has its capital at Pierre.

South Dakota

6. This actor attended college on a football scholarship before dropping out and returning home to Florida. This actor made his film debut in 2005’s Coach Carter, but his breakthrough role was in 2006’s Step Up,* in which he co-starred with his now-wife. His “33andOut” production company released its first documentary in 2010, about a Rwandan genocide survivor. For 10 points, name this actor, who played opposite Jonah Hill in 21 and 22 Jump Street, and cowrote and starred in the Magic Mike films about his 8 month experience as a “male entertainer.”

Channing Tatum

7. Historian Ivan van Sertima claimed that African peoples visited areas settled by this non-Aztec culture during prehistory, and the Cascajal Block near San Lorenzo may contain this culture’s writing system. Their artwork, which includes the statuette “The Wrestler,” remains their most famous contribution, and includes a set of colossal basalt heads* located throughout the coastal areas along the Gulf of Mexico. For 10 points, name this ancient Mesoamerican civilization, located in today’s southern Mexico, that may have practiced ritual bloodletting, and used the jaguar as a prominent symbol.

Olmecs

8. This holiday begins on the 25th day of Kislev, and does not require one to refrain from activities, like school or food. Once the namesake activity concludes, the hymn Hanerot Halalu is sung, giving thanks to the “miracle and...wonders...the redemption, and the battles that you made.” The holiday is marked by the lighting of a successive number of candles, over the course of eight nights, commemorating the victory over the Seleucids and rededication of the Second Temple. For 10 points, name this Jewish holiday that involves a Menorah, the consumption of oil-based foods such as doughnuts and latkes, celebrated anytime between late November and late December, according to the Hebrew calendar.

Hanukkah (accept “Festival of Lights”)

9. One of these devices hit a row of seats at the U.S Open tennis tournament, and another knocked a person unconscious at a parade in 2015. One of these devices fell into a hot spring at Yellowstone* National Park, leading to a ban on the use of these devices by the National Park Service. Amazon has designated Chiba City in Japan as a test region for using these devices to deliver products. For 10 points, name these flying devices, which includes the Predator version used by the U.S military, that comes in a quadrocopter variety and is unmanned.

Drones (accept “Unmanned Aerial Vehicles” or “Unmanned Aircraft Systems” or abbreviations of either)

10. This organ has three borders, and the anterior border overlaps a prominent double-walled sac with two layers, one of which contains fibrous tissue. This organ has a central recession called a hilum at its root, where blood vessels and airways* pass into it. The left side of this organ shares space with another organ, which creates an angular notch inside it. The trachea divides into two tubes, before entering either side of this organ. For 10 points, name this organ, that has air sacs within it called alveoli, and which serves as the location for respiration for the human body.

Lungs

11. This story opens with the protagonist and his friend discussing Ship-Trap Island, while on a hunting trip to Brazil. The protagonist of this short story ends up on that island where he discovers a chateau owned by General Zaroff,* a fellow big-game hunter who has grown bored with hunting animals and has changed his practices. This short story supposedly was the inspiration for “paintball.” For 10 points, name this short story, in which Rainsford is hunted by Zaroff, and concludes with the protagonist stating that he “had never slept in a better bed” after presumably killing Zaroff, by Richard Connell.

The Most Dangerous Game (accept “The Hounds of Zaroff” which was its other title)

12. This city was established by the Residence Act, after a compromise was reached over the Assumption Act. An 1846 agreement, called the “Retrocession,” returned a portion of this American city to a nearby state, largely due a lack of development and fear over the removal of slavery. The Compromise of 1850 ended the slave trade* in this city, and Solomon Northrup was illegally held as a slave for a time in this city. For 10 points, name this American city, surveyed by George Washington and once formed from territory in Maryland and Virginia, the capital of the United States.

Washington, D.C. (prompt on partial answer)

13. One type of this rock is known for its “banding,” and it is believed that its protolith underwent extreme shearing force. This rock type can feature minerals like olivine, but that is most likely due to the formation of another type of rock that is volcanic* in nature. Andalusite and some types of garnet are index minerals of this type of rock, which determines the amount of change it has undergone. For 10 points, name this type of rock, formed from intense heat and pressure inside the Earth’s crust, examples of which are gneiss, slate, schist, and marble.

Metamorphic

14. This song made its debut on the radio show Kraft Music Hall just two weeks after the Pearl Harbor attack. The singer who recorded this song hated to sing it while touring to entertain troops, but stated that the “guys just hollered for it.” The composer of this song wrote it for the 1942 movie, Holiday Inn,* but felt that another song from that movie, “Be Careful It’s My Heart” was going to be the hit song. For 10 points, name this Irving Berlin composition, originally sung by Bing Crosby, in which “the treetops glisten, and children listen,” while the singer describes an ideal holiday environment.

White Christmas

15. This sculpture was designed over a decade before its final installation, which required fundraising on behalf of its intended city. Newspaper publisher Joseph Pulitzer led fundraising efforts to raise $100,000 dollars for its pedestal* and even published the names of donors in his newspaper. Its installation was complete by 1886, and by 1906 it was covered in patina. For 10 points, name this Frederic Bartholdi sculpture, which stands on the former Bedloe's Island in New York Harbor and the base of which contains Emma Lazarus' 1883 poem, "The New Colossus," a symbol of American freedom.

Statue of Liberty

16. This battle was prompted by a succession crisis in its country of origin, and the losing side's commander had just defeated his brother's army at Stamford Bridge a few weeks earlier. This battle began early in the morning on Senlac Hill,* and lasted until dusk when the losing side's commander was killed, supposedly by an arrow through the eye, which was documented in the Bayeux Tapestry. For 10 points, name this 1066 battle, in which William the Conqueror defeated Harold Godwinson to begin the Norman conquest of England.

Battle of Hastings

17. This mythological location was supposedly created after a vicious battle between warring groups of gods. It was said to never rain at this location nor was wind ever felt, as it was guarded by Uranus.* The twelve gods who resided here each had palaces in its many gorges, and dined together in the Pantheon while eating ambrosia and drinking nectar. For 10 points, name this home of the Greek gods, which was claimed by them after they defeated the Titans and at whose base resided the Nine Muses, an actual location in Greece today.

Mount Olympus (prompt on partial answer)

18. In one poem by this author, he describes the “essence of winter sleep” and “the scent of apples.” In another poem by this author, he declares that home is “the place where, when you have to go there,* they have to take you in.” In another poem by this author, a young boy cries “Don’t let him cut my hand off!” after injuring it while cutting wood. For 10 points, name this author of “After Apple-Picking,” “Death of the Hired Man,” and “Out-Out,” who also stated “Whose woods these are, I think I know” in his “Stopping By Woods on a Snowy Evening.”

Robert Frost

19. The planning for this event began almost a year before it occurred, and it was confirmed by Resolution 14 a month before it began. One side in this event declared a seven-day truce for the namesake holiday, but instead launched a coordinated surprise attack* with the call sign “Crack the Sky, Shake the Earth!” in January, 1968. The opposing side’s forces lost ground quickly, but made up all losses within months. For 10 points, name this Communist attack on South Vietnamese cities during the Lunar New Year which failed militarily, but convinced many Americans that the Vietnam War could not be won.

Tet Offensive (accept “General Offensive and Uprising” as the operation was known to the North Vietnamese)

20. This nation has claimed more than 400,000 square miles of Antarctic territory, but this claim is suspended along with all others. This nation's capital and its largest port are located in the central part of this nation, which is less than 220 miles wide* at its widest point. This nation's northern region contains rich copper deposits in the Atacama Desert, while its southern portion contains the Patagonia, which is shared with Argentina. For 10 points, name this South American nation, which is over 2,600 miles long, considered part of the Southern Cone, with capital at Santiago.

Chile

21. In one novel by this author, a character sits in an Amsterdam bar and laments his failure to prevent a woman from drowning. This author of The Fall also wrote a novel which he noted, “Rats died in the street; men in their homes. And newspapers are concerned only with the street.” This author of *The Plague also described the life of Meursault, who loses his mother and shoots an Arab on the beach and is executed for showing no remorse for his actions. For 10 points, name this French-Algerian author of The Stranger.

Albert Camus

22. The “complexometric” variety of this technique often uses the chelating agent EDTA, while the zeta potential variety can use surfactant or change the PH. Phenolphthalein [FEE-nohl-THAY-leen] is also useful since it changes* color at the equivalence point. Beer's Law can determine the concentration of material determined by this technique. For 10 points, name this lab technique of slowly adding drops of one reactant to find the unknown concentration of another.
